

Having read the reviews (as you're doing now) we thought they all sounded too good to be true. We were a little sceptical and apprehensive about committing to a new kitchen based on reviews from websites rather than personal recommendation.

However, choosing Mark Town to design and fit our wonderful new kitchen was the best decision we made. He will inform you of the choices you can feasibly make regarding the design. He won't push you into buying gadgets or things you don't need or are expensive unless you want them. He's realistic and clear about what hidden extras he may sometimes uncover once you begin.

Within a week of our old kitchen being ripped out our new one was in. He is, as we would put it, a grafter and he made sure that any problem encountered, however big or small, was rectified as quickly as possible to keep things on track.

Mark will recommend a tiler and a decorator whom we chose to use, and as a result everything linked in nicely with the completion of the installation of the kitchen. I would certainly recommend that you use his colleagues who, as well as Mark, were absolute professionals. Their high standards of work will almost certainly leave you with a beautifully finished kitchen.

Due to the excellent design by Mark of our kitchen it looks twice as big and we have more cupboard space than we can fill.

We can't recommend Mark Town highly enough and we are so pleased we used his services.
